

MPSI ROHS & WEEE DIRECTIVES STATEMENT

MPSI acknowledges its responsibility to the environment and undertakes to meet its legislative obligations with the advent of two key European directives:

RoHS 2002/95/EC:

Restriction of the Use of Certain Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment

WEEE 2002/96/EC:

Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment Directive

MPSI provides customers our assurance that it meets its own obligations under these directives.

With specific reference to the RoHS 2002/95/EC Directive, MPSI functions solely as a Distributor in our transactions with our Customers and is not a manufacturer of products.

In conducting business with our customers we shall remain fully committed to assisting our customers with the acquisition and provision of information on RoHS compliance, stating this in quotations, order documentation, invoicing and delivery notes (where applicable).

In our endeavour to support our customers information requests, we must reiterate that at no time is MPSI authorised to, and do not make any representation on information given relating to the RoHS status of any product. The information MPSI provides is based upon the Manufacturer's data.

Our information is passed on in good faith and is given without responsibility or liability.

All Information provided by us must be verified with the Manufacturer before relying upon it.
